7. EMENTA DESCRITIVA: This course will offer a survey of Modernist fiction by British writers of the Bloomsbury Group, focusing on E. M. Forster, D. H. Lawrence and Virginia Woolf. Short fiction by Katherine Mansfield, Leonard Woolf, Lytton Strachey, Radclyffe Hall, and D. H. Lawrence, as well as modernist poetry by Rupert Brooke, T. S. Eliot and H.D. (Hilda Doolittle) will supplement our discussions. We will also read theoretical texts by Forster, Sigmund Freud and Roger Fry in order to relate their ideas to the works. Paintings by Vanessa Bell, Duncan Grant, D. H. Lawrence and other impressionists will provide an interdisciplinary context for a larger understanding of the uniquely English Modernist techniques and themes.
